In the prettiest and closest pitcher's battle fought here this season, McKenzie yesterday put over Morrissey by a two margin, Rich and winning by a 1-0 score, after both teams had battled for seven innings without seriously threatening to check a runner.

The game was played almost in its time, but it lacked the assortment of thrills usually felt in contests where the players make a successful bid for victory. Both McKenzie and Morrissey worked so effectively that inning after inning saw their opponents going back to the bench in one, two, three order. Such games have a wondrous charm for the players, who want to get off their uniforms, and the spectators, who want to get off their stories, but the great army of fans, the people who support the institution, like a little bit of mixed in with the smooth batter work. They like to see an occasional dent put in the left field fence by some redoubtable sagger, and they aren't so concerned about the pitcher's change of pace as about the runner's change of base. That is why a fast game sometimes seems to drag.

Both slab artists allowed four hits and struck out four men. McKenzie walked two men and Morrissey made a wild throw which made him look pretty even. But two of the hits off Morrissey were secured in one inning, one being a two-bagger, while "Hot Mon" kept his well scattered, which gave him the advantage.

Spectacular Fielding.

Several spectacular field plays were pulled off, which served to keep the crowd in lung practice. McMahon was the star for the Highlanders, and the fans gave him a generous share of the applause. His first hard chance came in the second chapter when Sandherr slugged a high line drive, which the auburned-looking shortstop pulled down with his mitt. Later on Riggs batted out a hot grounder, and McMahon turned it up the turf, scooping the ball into his hand and tagging the batter at first.

Richmond made quite a number of good plays. In the second inning Doyle, who made his first appearance here, sent the ball over the fence with two men on bases in the first inning. Churn and McLeavy, Petersburg's best catchers were both hurt and will be out of the game for several days.

Two Pretty Doubles.

With Hessler on second in the sixth inning and one out, Clayton drove a liner above Ison's head, which the second baseman plucked from the air.

Blank Petersburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., June 18.—Winchester shut out Petersburg in the first game of the series here this afternoon.

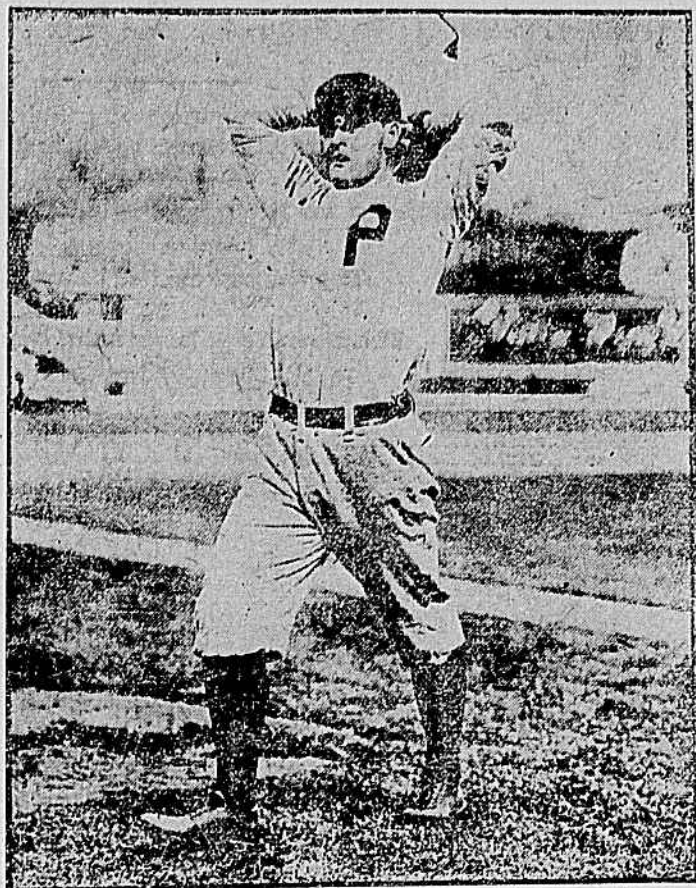

Duffy, the Winchester catcher, put the ball over the fence with two men on bases in the first inning. Churn and McLeavy, Petersburg's best catchers were both hurt and will be out of the game for several days.

ment blue, doubling on Hessler. In the next frame another double was secured in neat style. With McMahon on first, Morrissey slugged a hot grounder to Sandherr, who ran to second and threw out the batter at first.

In the eighth inning Titman came to bat and wallowed a thriller to left field for half the journey around the course. Like a true martyr, Ison died at first, advancing Titman to third. Then Messitt sent the sphere spinning between short and third for one base. Titman romped home, and the game was over, as McKenzie and Heffron flew out to the field, and Roanoke was retired in order. DANVILLE TAKES NORFOLK'S SCALP

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

DANVILLE, VA. June 18.—Following their three days' triumph over Lynchburg, the Tobaccoists to-day took the first game of the series from Norfolk. The game was hard fought and exciting, despite the score of 5 to 2. Perdue, who was on the firing line for the Crew, pitched great ball with the exception of the first inning, when Danville scored three runs after the visitors had had three chances to retire. An error by O'Neal was followed by three successive singles.

Walker, while allowing as many hits as his opponent, kept them well scattered. The game was featured by the phenomenal work of Powell in left field.

The Original McMahon Traded.

"Reddy" McMahon, who held down the third cushion for Norfolk in 1906 and part of the season last year, and was sold to Columbia, in the South Atlantic League, has been traded to Manager Dexter, of the Augusta team, for Valdois. McMahon is a good player, and played good ball for Columbia, but his temper is to the contrary, and he got in bad with the fans; so Manager Clark deemed it best to make the deal letting the "red-top one" go.

McMahon's general tactics on the field are not admired by the lovers of clean sport. He was not popular in this league.

TRUCKERS DROP FIRST OF SERIES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., June 18.—Playing a superior game in the field and using the steel effectively, Lynchburg took the opening of the series from the Truckers to-day by the score of 4 to 2. Umpire Byron came in for a roast, owing to a decision in the sixth, the Portsmouth players claiming that Stewart failed to touch first, but his umpire saw it differently. Lynchburg deserved to win, as they hit the ball hard and often, ran bases cleverly and gave Stewart excellent support. The Truckers showed up in a crippled condition, with Bertram at short, who made four out of six errors credited to the team. Two were extremely costly.

Eight straight games.

Yesterday saw one of the season's prettiest games.

It was a pitchers' battle between McKenzie and Morrissey.

Only one man reached third up to the eighth inning.

Another errorless performance for Richmond.

Four straight games have been won by McMahon.

McMahon robbed Sandherr out of a pretty hit by his pretty one-hand catch.

My but wasn't that a catch! Heffron made of Boyle's fly! The prettiest made this season.

McMahon grabbed Riggs' hot liner with his bare hand and threw him out at first.

Shaffer was there with the "old pepper" yesterday.

"Pop" Shaffer broke his bat when he swatted out a single.

"Beacher Jim" was out in full regalia yesterday—white suit, red tie, black hat, with butterfly stuck in it.

McMahon stole a base on Messitt.

Clayton juggled Heffron's grounder four or five times, giving him time to get to first.

McMahon's single came in good with Whelan on first.

Ison made a postal-card sticking in his pistol pocket yesterday during the whole game.

The Roanoke players are mighty slow coming to the bat, which knocks all interest out of the game.

Titman swatted out a pretty two-bagger in the eighth.

Messitt timely hit scored the one-run in the eighth.

Messitt is getting to be a good pinch hitter.
